

Privacy statement

Introduction

This privacy statement is intended to help site visitors understand how Intrinsic Therapeutics, Inc. ("Intrinsic") collects, uses and safeguards the information you provide on Intrinsic's websites. Intrinsic may amend this policy without notice. Any changes or updates will be effective immediately upon posting to this site.

Personal Data

Visitors may browse Intrinsic's websites without providing any personal information. In some countries where the data privacy laws permit, Intrinsic may ask you for personal data. "Personal Information" (also referred to as "Personal Data" in some jurisdictions) is any information that can be used to identify an individual or that we can link directly to an individual, such as name, address, email address, telephone number or credit card number, as applicable. Personal Information, in some jurisdictions, can even include information that indirectly identifies a person – such as a unique number assigned to a patient by a medical facility or healthcare professional, even absent other identifying information. Health and treatment information pertaining to an identified or identifiable individual is a form of Personal Information also known as Protected Health Information ("PHI"). We will process any PHI and Personal Information collected through the Websites in accordance with applicable law and as explained in this document. If you do not want to provide us this information, please do not utilize these features of the Websites.

Examples of instances where we collect Personal Information, includes if you:

- register for an account or one of our services or events;
- sign up for newsletters;
- ask us a question by contacting us at the information provided in the Contact Us section;
- are a potential patient and on your request we share your information with a surgeon;
- apply for employment with us; or
- are a customer and provide information about your customer or patients.

For example, Intrinsic may occasionally conduct on-line surveys to better understand the needs and profile of Intrinsic's visitors. Intrinsic also request personal information if you register and request additional information on Intrinsic's products and services or if you send Intrinsic a question. Visitors are not required to provide personal information but by choosing not to do so they may be unable to access certain options and services.

You should note that personal information that you provide to Intrinsic through these websites may be used by Intrinsic for marketing and promotional assessments and purposes, its subsidiaries and affiliates. Intrinsic does not rent, sell or otherwise distribute your personal information entered on this site to non-affiliated third parties.

If you upload or post patient information (for example, health or treatment information including x-rays or medical images that relate to an individual) to one of our Websites (for example, if you are a healthcare professional, hospital, medical scanning facility or similar health care provider or one of their representatives that is an Intrinsic customer or acting on behalf of an Intrinsic customer), please note that you are responsible for obtaining any consent required under applicable laws from the relevant individual before uploading or posting the information. In addition, you are responsible for complying with all applicable privacy laws. To the extent permitted by applicable law, by using the Websites, you are agreeing to this Policy.

The information we collect is typically related to the product or service requested, such as name and contact details, the nature of the product or service requested, and related information so that we may fulfill requests and respond to them. For example, if you apply for a job with Intrinsic through our website, the information collected will include your qualifications for the position, your education, applicable licenses or certifications, prior job history, references, and any other information that you choose to include about yourself.

We may be required by law to collect certain personal information about you or as a consequence of any contractual relationship we have with you. Failure to provide this information may prevent or delay the fulfillment of these obligations.

Occasionally, Intrinsic may invite users to participate in a survey or poll, for example, to provide feedback on website content, services, or products. Responses will be anonymous unless users choose to provide contact details so that we can provide a user with additional information regarding the survey.

Consistent with applicable laws, Intrinsic uses reasonable and appropriate efforts and measures to safeguard the confidentiality of your information. Intrinsic takes these steps to protect the information from data leaks and misuse. Despite Intrinsic's efforts, please note that there always remain some risks that your data can be improperly accessed, such as during transmission or as a result of misappropriation. Intrinsic may share fully anonymized (statistical or aggregated) non-personal information about Intrinsic's users with advertisers, business partners, sponsors and other third parties to help Intrinsic customize the websites' content and advertising.

In the rare event that Intrinsic is acquired by another Company, Intrinsic wants to inform you of the possibility that personal information that you may share with Intrinsic can be transferred to the buyer or transferee in connection with that asset transfer. Intrinsic reserves the right to disclose user information if required or permitted by law. Also, please note that Intrinsic may disclose personal information when Intrinsic believes, in good faith, that Intrinsic must in the event of a public health risk or emergency situation.

If you need to update or correct your personal information profile you may do so directly on these websites or by contacting Intrinsic at the address below.

Contact Form

When filling out our contact form, we will need your name, email address, country and visitor profile in order to provide you with a response. In providing us this data, you give Intrinsic permission to use the data for the above purposes.

Cookies

Intrinsic uses Google Analytics, in order to understand how visitors use our websites, so that we can optimize site usability. For this reason we place analytical cookies from Google through our websites. A cookie is a small amount of data that is sent to your browser from a web server and stored on your computer's hard drive for a certain period of time and that can be used to identify the user's device. Cookies can make use of the web easier by saving status and preferences about a web site. Most browsers are initially set to accept cookies but you may be able to adjust the settings of your browser to allow you to refuse cookies or to be alerted when cookies are being sent.

Google Analytics

Google, a U.S. company, places a cookie as part of their "Analytics" service. Intrinsic is using this service to keep track and better understand how visitors use our websites. Google may share this information with third parties, if required by law, or when Google has information being processed through third parties. Intrinsic has neither influence on this process nor have they allowed Google to use the collected analytical data for other Google services. Information that is being collected by Google will be anonymized to the extent possible. Your IP-address will not be provided. Data used for analytics is transferred and stored by Google on servers in the United States. Google maintains the Safe Harbor principles and is affiliated with the Safe Harbor program of the U.S. Department of Commerce. This means that there is an appropriate level of protection for the processing of any personal data.

Google Maps

These websites use the Google Maps service. This service allows for geographical maps and travel directions to be displayed on our websites. When using Google Maps a number of cookies will be stored, for example to remember the zoom level. Information that is being collected by Google will be anonymized to the extent possible. Your IP-address will not be provided. Data used for analytics is transferred and stored by Google on servers in the United States. Google maintains the Safe Harbor principles and is affiliated with the Safe Harbor program of the U.S. Department of Commerce. This means that there is an appropriate level of protection for the processing of any personal data.

Security

Security of personal data is of great importance to us. To protect your privacy, we use secured connections (Secure Sockets Layer or SSL) that protects all information between you and our websites when you send personal data to us.

Legal Situations Requiring Disclosure

Intrinsic reserves the right to disclose user information in very infrequently occurring legal situations, such as when Intrinsic has reason to believe that disclosing this information is necessary to identify, contact or bring legal action against someone who may be causing injury to or interference with (either intentionally or unintentionally) Intrinsic's rights or property, other company website users, or anyone else that could be harmed by such activities. Intrinsic may disclose personal information without notice to you in response to a subpoena, when Intrinsic believes in good faith that the law requires it, or to respond to an emergency situation.

Policies for Children

Intrinsic does not knowingly collect or use any personal information from children under 13 years of age.
